Chapter Six

- Crown supported lower class of duty revenue trade
- Deistic planters of controlling tobacco
- Duty on slaves benefited planters - not merchants & slave traders
- Crown decided duty created burden diminishing revenue
- Enacted control of Atlantic economy
- Planters gained control of tax burden of 5% to 1732
- Colonial debt act - land & slaves could be seized
- Merchants forced planters to sell off their land
- "Debilitating NC" - put an end
- Inspection act - get all of fresh tobacco
- Planters opposed 6/6 cost of transport to inspection
- Small planters rose in rebellion 6/6 of act fearing disproportionate destruction